LETTER FROM PHENIX.

Tucson to Phenix--District Court--Criminal Proceedings--Lawyers--Newspaper Movement--W. B. Hellings & Co.'s Improvements in Roads and Lands--Improvements Generally--People Hopeful of the Future, Etc.

PHENIX, ARIZONA, September 19. Without saying much to my creditors or anybody else, I left Tucson on Tuesday September 16, for a hasty trip to and from Prescott. With a pleasant night and good company, the time passed agreeably and without dragging to Florence, where the stage passengers and all others who can get down before the table is full or the hash all devoured, fill themselves with viands and so forth furnished by Henry Glassman. Continuing on I reached this place on Wednesday evening at 11:30.

Upon arrival here I found district court in session. Two grand-juries had been called and discharged, and yesterday morning another was organized to inquire into the killing of George Douglass by Joseph Dawson at Kenyon Station, and this morning an indictment was returned to the court for manslaughter and the jury discharged. This does not seem to carry out the impression that the killing of Douglass was unprovoked murder, but probably the evidence would not warrant an indictment for the full degree of the crime, as often is the case. To day a Chinaman is being tried for the murder of one of his countrymen some time ago. Judge Tweed thinks the business of the term will close next week. Among the attorneys present, I observed Messrs. Rush, McCarty, Oary, Alsop, and Irvine, and Mr. Rowell of Yuma was here a few days ago.

C. L. Minor of The Yuma Sentinel is here. A paper is being circulated to see what encouragement can be had for him to bring his office to Phenix. I am not advised as to the amount likely to be subscribed. Like other sections of Arizona, the people here feel liberal enough but find about enough obligations to meet without incurring any considerable voluntary ones.

Wm. B. Hellings & Co. have recently put 40 men at work on a road directly from this valley to Camp Verde. Captain Hancock is out doing the surveying and J. W. Swilling and one or two other citizens are giving some assistance. Maj. Veil thinks the road can be made at a moderate outlay, and by it freight can be sent to and from Prescott and Verde at one cent and a half per pound less than by Wickenburg. The people of New Mexico are making a strong effort to secure the trade and furnishing of supplies for Verde and unless this road be completed, it is quite likely they will be successful against all Arizona competitors, save by those who grow produce in Verde valley. Messrs. Hellings & Co. have a large interest in the flour and produce trade of this valley, and by another year expect to have much bacon for sale. Their steam mill is turning out an average of 12,000 pounds of the best of flour per sun of twelve hours. The wheat grown in this valley is white and plump and makes the very finest of flour. There is no present sale for bran, and hence the firm is purchasing hogs and will soon have enough to consume all the refuse and unsalable stuff about the mill. It is refreshing to look in and around this fine mill, and also the buildings and improvements about it. The firm has a very large tract of land and recently added the Swilling farm. Apple and peach trees and grape vines are growing thickly, and a few peaches ripened this year on the very young trees, and next year there will probably be quite a supply of grapes and peaches. Long rows of cottonwoods, some poplars and other shade trees are growing rapidly, and castor beans are also abundant. Looking back three years when I read over that ground covered with nothing but sage brush and greasewood, without a drop of water in sight, the present view is all the more pleasing and encouraging, as showing what water and well directed labor will do; and what may be said of that particular set of improvements, save the mill, may be truly remarked of many farms for fifteen miles up and down this valley. Farms that had not a tree on them and hardly one in sight, are now surrounded with trees from twenty to fifty feet in height. Owing to the low price of grain this year, many feel gloomy and some have sacrificed good property and are looking for other and better locations; but I am gratified to know that the mass of the people have confidence in the excellence of their lands and the certainty of the superiority of this as a farming section. Now the Gila is almost dry at Morgan & Co.'s crossing, and Salt River is full of water and so are the many ditches that thread this valley in every direction. Water is abundant here, and so far as experience serves as an index of the future, a scarcity need never be apprehended. All kinds of vegetables flourish well. Sweet potatoes are mealy and specially of fine, large growth and produce largely to the acre. Mr. Buck made pretty liberal sums of cash from a few acres last year, and off his six acres this, will realize a few thousand dollars. Onions, beets, cucumbers, etc., grow to perfection.

I deferred this writing till too late an hour to-day, and hence must omit mention of many subjects of interest until another time. The buckboard is ready to start for Wickenburg and I must drop this and go along. J. W.

We take the following items of interest from The Miner of September 13:

D. R. Poland and Ed. Powers were attacked by a few Apaches on Big Bug Creek. Poland's horse was killed.

The Date Creek Indians have had some sickness among them since they went on the Verde reserve, and probably these were some of the disaffected who were leaving, and to keep their hand in, were practicing the old game once more.

Mr. Minor, of The Sentinel, was at Prescott and talks of moving his paper from Yuma to Cerbat.

Fred. Henry and P. Smith had cleaned up forty ounces of gold from their arrastras in Kirkland Valley, the product of seven tons of Rainbow ore.

Rain had been plentiful in Prescott. W. Z. Wilson had submitted plans for a fire-proof county building, which was accepted by the Board of Supervisors.

Hugo Richards had just returned from New Mexico, where he had purchased 1800 head of cattle for the reservation at Verde.

September 11, a boy was born to the wife of J. C. Potts and died on the following morning.

September 12, Louis Wortman died of consumption.

The Elliott Brothers at Prescott are making an excellent quality of matches. We hope the trade of Arizona will patronize them.

A VERY disastrous financial panic occurred in New York, and many failures have taken place, among them, Jay Cooke & Co., Fisk & Hatch, and Randolph & Co. The latter is son-in-law of Thomas A. Scott and his banker. At last accounts Vanderbilt was creating a reaction by buying heavily in railroad stocks. The cause of the panic is attributed to the hostility of the people in the Western States to railroad companies, which has caused foreign capitalists to withdraw their investments.

FROM dispatches to the San Diego Union, we learn that Lieut. Wheeler had arrived at Salt Lake City and reported that "the topographical and geological results of the survey in Eastern Arizona are perfectly wonderful. A country was discovered with magnificent parks, trees and woods, far exceeding any portion of Colorado."

WE see by The Miner of 20th inst., that according to previous notice, J. H. Marion was married September 16, to Miss Banghart of Chino Valley. There seemed to be general rejoicing in Prescott over the happy occasion, and we of Tucson send congratulations and a sincere desire that the newly married couple may have a long and happy life.

FROM The Sentinel we learn that work commenced on the Arizona telegraph at Yuma, September 19, and that it is expected that the line will be completed from San Diego to Yuma by November 15. A boy named Wm. LeRoy was killed recently by a box falling on him. Regular trips by steamer will be made every twenty days between San Francisco and the mouth of the Colorado.

THE district court will commence in Tucson, October 6. On the same day the law provides that a session of the district court shall be commenced in Mohave county. Judge Porter is absent from the Territory, and Gov. Safford has designated Judge Tweed to hold court in his stead.

TO THE PUBLIC.

WE take this method of respectfully announcing to our friends and the citizens of Arizona in general, that we have just received, and are now opening
